Date	Age	Life Event
11/07/1953	0	Born in Killeen Texas to Richard and Dorothy Mae. Richard was a private in the army and was transferred to “Texas Bermuda Triangle” and in 1942, before Carl was born, Killeen was selected to be the location for its Tank Destroyer Tactical and Firing center.
11/10/1953	3 d.	Moved back to Coalwood, West Virginia
11/10/1954?	1	His sister Sharon Yvonne was born
1955	2	Richard left Dorothy and the kids forever and gave no reason. They then moved to Inkster, Michigan. Dorothy then worked as an art teacher and went to Coalwood to visit her mother, Lula Mae Young, a lot. Carl loved visiting his grandmother. He acquired his nickname because his cousins had an accent and would draw out the letters in Carl’s name until it sounded like Coral and Carl decided that he liked it and also started talking like that. A coral reef is a beautiful organism that is dangerous to the touch and Carl asked his mother to change it. He liked hunting jackrabbits with his grandfather. In Inkster, Coral struggled in school but tried very hard with his homework and earned good grades.
1961	8	Coral and Sharon got meningitis (an inflammation of the membrane that surrounds the brain and spinal cord and is caused by a viral infection). The hospital that their mother took them to, Detroit General Hospital, took Sharon but refused to see Coral. He then got a horrible fever and had to go to Herman Keifer Hospital for a while because he now had meningitis and polio. He had to be kept separate from other patients and had to get spinal taps. He missed the entire 3 rd grade and his attention span dropped and grades suffered. Coral complained his memory often failed him now too.
1962	9	Dorothy got remarried to a man named Norman Ceaser who had 6 kids of his own. They then had 2 more kids. Coral didn’t get much attention because he didn’t stand out; he was shy, quiet, and introverted. Coral kept everything inside and when he got upset he was volatile. He wasn’t violent or abusive and was never abused by his parents. Coral got his frustrations out through the love of sports. He was an excellent baseball and football player and track star. He won a Golden Gloves boxing title in the middleweight division but the first time he got knocked out he gave up.

1968	15	He was reading at a 4 th grade level and he didn't seem to care anymore.
06/25/1969	15	He had his first run-in with the law. He was a paper delivery boy in Detroit and attacked a 26 year old white woman, Gave, one morning for no reason. He punched her in the face until she screamed and then he left, continued his delivery and went home. Four days later he was arrested at his home and said "I just felt like beating someone up".
09/02/1969	15	Taken to Lafayette Mental Clinic which is a forensic psychiatry center in Detroit. He had sex at 14 but didn't have much interest in girls. He was told sex is wicked behavior. When he was evaluated it was said that he experienced disturbing dreams of beating up women and even killing them and he feels better after having the dreams. Several weeks later he still didn't feel remorse for attacking Gave. It was said by a doctor that he was impulsive and had a passive-aggressive orientation to life and no evidence of psychosis. He's a paranoid man who is struggling for control over homicidal impulses. The doctor recommended outpatient treatment.
11/07/1969	16	Coral was released from Lafayette Mental Clinic on his birthday.
1969-1974	16-21	Went back to Lafayette Mental Clinic less than 10 times for his outpatient treatment. Began to get mixed in with drugs, withdrew from friends, and got in trouble in school because of his behavior with girls. He still played football and boxing and said that's how he dealt with abusive parents although everyone in his family denies abuse.
1973	19	Graduated with the help of his mother and received a scholarship to play football for Lane college in Tennessee. Lane college was predominantly black, he was the running back until he had a severe knee injury and wasn't able to play anymore. He dropped out after three months and moved back to Detroit with his mother and step father for six months. He became a mechanic for E & L Transport.
1974	20	Went to Lafayette Mental Clinic for a checkup and said he was still suffering from his problems. His psychological evaluation said he might have problems with his sexuality and there were hints of homosexuality and he had a strong impulse to beat up women.
07/02/1974	20	Enrolled in college courses at Western Michigan University. He was accepted under the MLK grant program for minorities. He was studying engineering and worked in the University cafeteria. He slacked off in class and spent his time playing ping pong. He intensely hated females even more than before.
10/11/1974	20	He was caught stealing plywood from the WMU campus. The school police arrested him but they didn't press charges.
10/25/1974	20	Coral knocked on Lenore Knizacky's apartment door at 10:45 am, with the door still chained she opened the door and Coral asked for Charles, which was the name of one of his siblings. No one named Charles lived there and she told him to check some neighbor's places and he did but then he came back. She asked if he'd like to leave a note and she undid the chain lock and went to get paper. Coral slipped in and attacked Knizacky. He got on top of her and choked her until she passed out and then he left.
10/30/1974	20	A young woman, Gloria was murdered. She was 19, a mother, and a student at WMU. She was stabbed 33 times in the chest with a wooden carving tool and had a crushed windpipe. There were no witnesses except for a woman who saw a black man walk up the staircase and he said he was looking for Charles. The police could not do an investigation because someone moved the evidence and body.
11/12/1974	21	Diane K. Williams, an apartment resident manager, noticed a black man wandering around the apartment complex who was "looking for Charles" and Coral knocked on her door and asked for Charles. She got a piece of paper and Coral took it from her and forced the door open and pushed Williams into her apartment. While the two were fighting her phone began to ring so she knocked it off the hook and screamed for help. Her husbands secretary was on the other end and the man took off running. Williams stood up and looked out her window and saw the man getting into a tan Pontiac Grand Prix. A lineup was put together and Williams and Knizacky identified Coral.

11/16/1974	21	Coral was arrested and charged with assault and battery for both cases.
11/18/1974	21	He admitted that he was in the area of where Gloria lived the day before she died but he said he did not kill her.
11/21/1974	21	Arrested for stealing the plywood from WMU but he kept his mouth shut and was released on bond.
12/6/1974	21	Coral was interviewed by Ninth District Court investigator Freemire. Coral admitted to attacking about 15 other young women. Most of the women were thin, attractive and white. After a while he demanded a lawyer, the person to represent him was Plaszczak. Coral decided he wanted to admit himself into the Kalamazoo Mental Hospital.
12/12/1974	21	Detroit police had a search warrant for Watts' home and they found wooden carving tools but nothing to tie him to Gloria's murder.
12/18/1974	21	Watts had to stay in jail for 45 days or go to Kalamazoo Mental Hospital for the larceny of the plywood. Watts chose to stay in the hospital. Watts liked staying in the hospital too much, he shot pool and played basketball. Many doctors checked out Coral and said he doesn't believe in God, ESP, he hasn't heard any voices, didn't have delusions, there weren't psychotic symptoms noticed and mental facilities were intact. One of the doctors, Katilius, said Coral suffered from antisocial personality disorder.
1/8/1975	21	Coral tried to kill himself or tried to make the doctors think he wanted to kill himself. He got a laundry bag cord and hung himself when a nurse saw him and cut him down. He wasn't unconscious. He was released later and worked sweeping up a local church.
6/1975	21	Admitted to the Center for Forensic Psychiatry in Michigan. A doctor Benedek said that Watts usually feels good after he beats up women. She didn't think he had a mental illness and said he was competent to stand trial. She also said he is dangerous and the potential for recidivism is high. He stated that what he did to the women didn't bother him.
12/19/1975	22	His trial for the assault and battery of Knizacky and Williams. He pleaded "no contest" and went to the county jail for one year.
8/24/1976	22	He was released from the jail, returned to Inkster, and moved in with his mother and stepfather. Coral hooked up with a childhood friend, Deloris Howard, and got her pregnant.
June-Oct 1978		About 5 attacks on women in Detroit with about the same modus operandi every time. Break into women's homes, the women would wake up to a man standing over them with his hands on their mouths, breasts, or genitals.
2/3/1979	25	Had a daughter with Deloris and named her Nakisha Watts. They had a seemingly healthy relationship but he was really a deadbeat dad. He wouldn't claim Nakisha as his own and took off. Later Deloris filed a claim to get $70 a week from Coral for child support.
8/17/1979	25	Coral married Valeria Goodwill and they moved in together on Parker Street in Detroit. Coral's mom didn't like Valeria very much and eventually Valeria didn't like Coral either. She said that he had nightmares or something in his sleep and it would be like he was fighting someone in his sleep. She also said he would also fall out of bed or the couch and get back in without waking up. If Valeria touched him while he was waking up he would jump and she had to get out of the way. Soon after their marriage he began to act strangely. He would constantly rearrange the furniture, cut up house plants with knives, cut candles and melt them into the table, dump garbage all over the floors and not pick it up. After they would have sex or an "intimate encounter" he would get up and leave and be gone for hours at a time.

1/25/1980	26	Judge Gilmore ruled that Coral was the father and had to pay $40 a week. Deloris found out by reading the newspaper that Coral had married another woman.

Later that day a 22 year old woman, Kondratowitz, was walking home when she was grabbed from behind by a man and then he slashed her throat, luckily she survived. The United States customs authorities got a picture of Coral's car crossing the border of where the crime was shortly after it was committed.
9/14/1980	26	A 20 year old girl, Huff, was found dead outside of her apartment and was stabbed 54 times with a screwdriver. The Ann Arbor press noticed that all of the murders had a few things in common, they were all white women outside their apartments and they were all killed Sunday morning around 4 a.m. and so people started to call the murderer, the Sunday Morning Slasher.
10/6/1980	26	20-year-old woman, Dalpe, was attacked and stabbed and luckily survived. She had deep cuts on her face and one severed her jugular vein, and she ended up having some paralyzed muscles, weak muscles, she could barely eat or move her head, and her arms barely went over her head.
11/1/1980	26	30-year-old woman, Angus, was walking to her home after a Halloween party and noticed a black man with a hooded sweatshirt and she kept an eye on him. As soon as she took out her keychain he knelt down to tie his shoe then came right after her. She screamed at the top of her lungs and ran to her front door. The man turned and ran the other way because he was startled by her reaction. She pointed out Coral Watts from a photographic lineup but she could not be 100% sure because it was not well lit outside.
11/6/1980	26	63-year-old woman, Bennett. Her body was found hanging by a trench coat belt from a beam in her garage. This woman was sexually assaulted unlike the other women. They said that a wooden broomstick was inserted into her vagina.

11/15/1980	27	Paul Bunten, an Ann Arbor Homicide detective, was told by two beat patrol officers that they witnessed Watts stalking a young woman. That was the only time any authority figure would see Watts playing his game, cat and mouse. He would drive past her and then stop a few blocks ahead, she would run a different direction and he would follow her again, and she'd try to hide. The 2 police officers said that Watts almost went nuts when the girl got inside her apartment because he had lost her. The police officers chased him down when he ran from them and caught up to his car with their police car. They arrested him for driving under a suspended license and expired license tags. They searched his vehicle and found a large dictionary with the words "Rebecca is a lover" scratched on it, blood evidence and wooden carving tools. Bunten had no evidence against Watts when he was brought in for interrogation so when Watts made his phone call he was allowed to leave. Bunten became Watts' "stalker" and tried to find out more information about him. When he talked to Watts' former psychiatrist and former attorney told Bunten that he probably found his killer.
11/20/1980	27	Watts attempted to attack a 60-year-old woman, Pardo. He grabbed her from behind and started choking her, as soon as she screamed he ran out.

3/23/1981	27	Watts applied for a job at United Transport. Watts got a job at Coastal Transport Co. for the shift of 4pm until midnight. He went back to Michigan to get his car.

4/15/1981	27	41 year old detective Bostock went to Watts' new job and asked the superintendent about Watts. The superintendent, Coats, wanted to fire him but Bostock asked to keep him there so that they could keep track of his movements.
6/1981	27	Coats fired Watts and Watts stated that he already had a job at J&R Trucking in Dallas and Coats informed Bostock. Bostock then mailed the case history report to Dallas Police. Watts, though, didn't move to Dallas.
Summer 1981	27	Watts moved to Columbus, Texas.
5/26/1981	27	Watts started his new job at Welltech.
8/25/1981	27	Watts was hired for the city of Houston's Metro bus system as a mechanic. He now lived in Eagle Lake.
9/5/1981	27	Watts had been drinking and he was driving around and he decided to follow a young white woman that he saw. Watts followed Tilley into her apartment complex and attacked her. 1/16/1982	28	A young girl had a few too many drinks and fell asleep in a friend's car. When the friend returned they said goodnight and got into their own vehicles and she drove home. On her way home Watts followed her and blinded her making her drive into the curb. He walked up to her and punched her in the throat and killed her instantly then stuck her in the trunk of her own car and left. A woman was changing her flat tire on the side of the freeway and Watts did not drive up to her but walked up to her and grabbed her by the head and slit her throat twice. She ran into traffic and a man picked her up, Watts thought he got his second kill of the day.

She was shown a photographic lineup and she picked out a man named Mosley.
2/7/1982	28	Very early in the morning a woman, Semander, was going to visit a friend after she had been out late. There was someone parked next to the dumpster who was sleeping in his car. He saw a black man come up to a young woman and drag her behind the dumpster but he was half asleep so he didn't notice really. He heard a moan a little later and then a thud as if something had been thrown into the dumpster. A trashman came later to get the dumpster and started to compact it when he noticed the human leg and called the police.

On her way home she was walking up her stairs and already had her keys out, she felt Watts behind her and turned around and started to say something but he grabbed her neck. He choked her to death, unlocked the door, and dragged her inside her house. He then submerged her in a tub full of water so that "her spirit would not get out” and then trashed her house.

When asked how many people he killed he stated that there were not enough fingers and toes in the room to count on, and there were a total of 100 fingers and toes in the room. Watts led police to where he buried Searles. As they were still undigging Searles’ body Watts started telling police about Jefferson.
